

HOW CAN LUTKINS PAY HIS WIFE $35 A WEEK OUT OF $25 SALARY?

Court Orders Him to Do It and Rich Father Says He Won't Help.

Theodore L. Lutkins Jr. was ordered by Justice Blackmar in the Brooklyn Supreme Court to-day to pay his wife $35 a week out of his $25 a week salary. It would seem that young Mr. Lutkins had better consult a specialist in high finance. His wealthy father, Theodore L. Lutkins Sr., declared emphatically to Justice Blackmar to-day that he would not help his son out.

"The salary," said the elder Lutkins, "is $25 net a week and he won't get a cent more from me."

"I don't care how he gets it," retorted the court. "That's his business. The fact remains that he has got to pay it."

After listening to the above young man's testimony, Justice Blackmar, sitting on the bench, said to the plaintiff, Mr. Theodore L. Lutkins Sr., the plaintiff, had told on the stand how she had met her husband at the Cafe Martin in November, 1910, and how they had married after an acquaintance of a few weeks. After his introduction to her, she gave her a little dinner at her home, that cost $25. The next day they went to the Waldorf and stayed at the time of $20. An $10 dinner followed at the Martinique, then a dinner at the Cumberland, and so on and so on.

The couple were married in Jersey City on Nov. 25, 1910. The bride was in mourning for her father. At the time, she declared, she got out of her father's big leather suitcase a week from the salary of $25 a week. She ran up a modest bill of $100 at Mrs. Sullivan's.

At this time, Justice Blackmar asked the plaintiff, "How did you happen to reduce your salary?" Justice Blackmar asked the plaintiff, "How did you happen to reduce your salary?"

"Because of his habits," snapped the plaintiff. "Then he isn't worth $25 a week. He couldn't get a job anywhere at more than $10 a week."

"This testimony," remarked the court, "is the subject of alimony was reached. He furnished to create an artificial situation, but it is not going to influence me. If this young man originally got a salary of $25 a week he was worth it. I will fix alimony at $25 a week and the defendant has got to pay the money somehow. I will also award the plaintiff a decree of separation."

Justice Blackmar, sitting on the bench, said to the plaintiff, "How did you happen to reduce your salary?" Justice Blackmar asked the plaintiff, "How did you happen to reduce your salary?"
